Director

Hannah Leonora Bailey picked up the flute twenty years ago and never hesitated to pursue a future in music. Her first teachers Mary Kemnec and Emily Reynolds taught her to embrace the learning process through positive encouragement that has served as a model for her own teaching methods. She discovered her passion for performing and teaching at Northern California Flute Camp where she attended as a student then continued to work on staff for six years. Hannah studied with Gary Woodward at Azusa Pacific University, earning her Bachelor of Music in Performance in 2016 and Artist Certificate in 2018. After moving to Boise in 2018, Hannah studied with Dr. Nicole Molumby at Boise State University and received her Masters of Music in Performance in 2020.

During the 2016/2017 season, Hannah served as the principal flute with the Orange County Symphony, which included a featured performance as a soloist on the complete Brandenburg Concerti. In the summer of 2017, she traveled to Zhengzhou, China and performed as principal flute with the Yellow River Symphony. She has adjudicated a number of competitions including the Marker and Pioneer International Music Competition and annually for the TVMTA Bach Festival and Competition in Boise.

Along with directing the CCSFO, Hannah continues to perform locally and pursues her love of teaching through her studios in both Boise and Nampa. Next weekend, she will bring the Canyon County Symphony Flute Orchestra to the Capital City Flute Club's event "Spring Flute Fling" and present a workshop.
