Hannah Leonora Bailey

Hannah picked up the flute twenty years ago and never hesitated to pursue a future in music. She studied with Gary Woodward at Azusa Pacific University, earning her Bachelor of Music in Performance in 2016 and Artist Certificate in 2018. After moving to Boise in 2018, Hannah studied with Dr. Nicole Molumby at Boise State University and received her Master of Music in Performance in 2020.

During the 2016/2017 season, Hannah served as the principal flute with the Orange County Symphony, which included a featured performance as principal soloist on the complete Brandenburg Concerti. In the summer of 2017, she traveled to Zhengzhou, China and performed as principal flute with the Yellow River Symphony. She has adjudicated a number of competitions including the Marker and Pioneer International Music Competition and for the annual TVMTA Bach Festival and Competition in Boise. Along with directing the Canyon County Flute Choir, Hannah continues to perform locally and teaches privately at studios in both Boise and Nampa.

Most recently, she collaborated with composer Taylor Ross on his newest work "Tetra" for unaccompanied flute, which can be found on her instagram @hannahleonoraflute and website at www.hannahleonora.com
